Short bio:

I am the Acting Director-General of the Labour Market and Employment Directorate at the Ministry of Economy, Labour and Sport of the Republic of Slovenia, where I oversee labour market and employment policies, legislative development, and the implementation of key national initiatives in the areas of employment, workforce development, and labour mobility. In this role, I work closely with national and international stakeholders on addressing labour market challenges, supporting economic competitiveness, and promoting effective public policies.

Before joining the Ministry, I held several senior management and legal positions within the Ministry of Public Administration, including Head of the Legal Affairs Service and Head of the Administrative Units Service. My professional experience covers public administration, regulatory development, organisational reform, legal affairs, and the management of complex policy projects.

I hold a law degree from the University of Maribor and completed part of my studies at Heidelberg University through the Erasmus programme. I have also passed the Slovenian State Bar Examination. Throughout my career, I have focused on improving institutional effectiveness, strengthening public services, and developing practical solutions to complex labour market and administrative challenges
